

IEREK PRESS
Academic Research Community

Indexing and Hosting Services

Hosting services:

SSRN by Elsevier is an open-access online repository of research in various fields of study. All research papers submitted to the International Journal of Environmental Science and Sustainable Development (ESSD) are hosted on SSRN for maximum visibility.

Indexing Services:

International Scientific Indexing is an indexing service that is committed to increasing the visibility of high quality open-access research.

Directory of Research Journals Indexing is an indexing database dedicated to disseminating open-access content.

OCLC WorldCat is an online computer library containing high quality, global content.

J-Gate is the largest E-journal database containing global content from various journals.

Scientific Indexing Services is an indexing databases developed by scientists who are devoted to propagating high quality research.

ResearchBib is an indexing database that allows for easy access of journal articles and research papers.

Academic Keys is an academic platform that provides various services for academics including access to journal content.

Cosmos is an indexing database developed by scientists who are devoted to propagating high quality research.

All research papers submitted to ESSD are later deposited in the following databases:

Academia.edu

SCRIBD

BibSonomy

publons